Aging infrastructure, environmental exposure, regulatory pressure, and operational risk can turn shutdown, cleanup, or redevelopment into a major challenge.

Melching helps reduce liability, maintain compliance, and move your project forward with confidence.

For more than 30 years, Melching has helped owners and operators navigate:

- Aging or obsolete facilities
- Environmental and regulatory exposure
- Shutdown and decommissioning challenges
- Safety and compliance concerns
- Uncertainty around next steps

Melching is a demolition and environmental contractor for industrial and high-risk facilities.

Services include:

- Industrial demolition and decommissioning
- Clearing out obsolete infrastructure
- Environmental remediation and hazardous material abatement
- Salvage and material recovery
- Site preparation

Our job is to manage risk so you can move forward.

Let's talk about your site today.
